Fire Dynamics Simulator (FDS) Seminar Fire Model Impacts on the AHJ

Speakers:

Dr. O.A. (DK) Ezekoye is a professor and the graduate advisor in the mechanical engineering department at The University of Texas at Austin. Dr. Ezekoye's main areas of research focus on the interplay between heat transfer and combustion processes. He has authored or co-authored over 100 journal and conference papers in combustion, fire, and heat transfer. He is also a co-author of the textbook "Thermodynamics an Integrated Learning System". Ezekoye's research and teaching covers a range of applications from fundamentals of combustion systems to scientific support of the fire service in developing fire fighting tactics. He has acted as Principal Investigator for projects in these areas supported by the National Science Foundation, U.S. Department of Commerce-National Institute of Standards and Technology, NASA, DOE, Office of Naval Research, Ford Motor Co., and 3M Corp.

Carl D. Wren, P.E. is a graduate of Texas A&M University in radiation protection engineering (nuclear). He is currently Chief Engineer for the City of Austin. Experienced in the application of the International Fire Code, International Building Code, Uniform Code for the Abatement of Dangerous Buildings, NFPA standards, and other related codes and standards. Carl is a Governor Appointed Commissioner, Texas Commission on Fire Protection, an Alternate on the International Fire Code Drafting Committee (Prescriptive IFC), and a Principle Member of the following committees: NFPA 5000 - Technical Committee on Building Services and Fire Protection Equipment, and Technical Committee on Industrial, Storage, and Miscellaneous Occupancies; NFPA 101 - Technical Committee on Building Services and Fire Protection Equipment and Technical Committee on Industrial, Storage, and Miscellaneous Occupancies.
